Professional Expertise

Dennis Yeo is the Head of Investor Services Asia Pacific at global commercial real estate services firm Cushman & Wakefield [NYSE: CWK]. His responsibilities include growing Cushman & Wakefield's client relationships and extending to them our full suite of best-in-class property services. This appointment relied on Dennis' years of experience in the property market across Asia Pacific.

Prior to leading Investor Services for APAC, Dennis was the Chief Executive Officer for Singapore and South-East Asia.

Dennis brings a highly valuable combination of professional expertise and leadership experience to the firm.

He has close to three decades of experience handling corporate real estate transactions acting for multi national corporate clients, funds and institutions. His professional expertise is in industrial and logistics around the region including Greater Asia. Over the years, he has built up an impressive network of clients who look to him and his team for real estate advice. His 3-year tenure as Managing Director, Industrial & Logistics, Asia, at CBRE has bolstered his expertise in the growth sector. During his tenure as CBRE's Managing Director of Asia Industrial & Logistics, Dennis has led the business to unprecedented record performance in the market.

Dennis was MD for Colliers Singapore for 22 years prior to joining CBRE. Apart from holding leadership responsibilities in the firm, Dennis was an Exco member of Colliers Asia management team, and managed the firm's China business between 2008 and 2010.
