

Richard Allan Yeh serves as a Senior Advisor to CAMRI and is also an Adjunct Associate Professor of Finance at the NUS Business School, where he teaches an honors course in Applied Portfolio Management.

Until his semi-retirement, Richard was Principal and Managing Director of Applied Risk Technologies Pte Ltd, a financial risk and investment management consulting firm. Prior to starting his own consulting firm, he was the regional representative of the US-based APT Group, a developer of proprietary investment risk management software for portfolio management.

Richard has more than 30 years of experience in the financial services industry, having also previously served as the Chief Executive Officer, respectively, of an Asia-focused hedge fund management company of Singapore's largest private asset manager and a Singapore-based merchant bank, as well as in various management and executive positions with international banking and financial institutions in Singapore, Hong Kong, Sydney and New York.

He was a founding member of the Singapore International Monetary Exchange (SIMEX) and served as a member of its Board of Directors and Chairman of the Floor and Contracts Committee, respectively, from 1984 to 1987. In 1999, Richard joined the inaugural Board of the Association of Financial Engineers (Singapore) and served as a member of the Advisory Panel to the Centre for Financial Engineering, National University of Singapore. From 2005 to 2006, he served as a member of the Investment Committee of the National University of Singapore, and from 2006 to 2008 as a risk management consultant to the NUS Investment Office that manages the university's endowment funds. In 2011, he was appointed as a member of the Appeal Advisory Panels constituted under the various legislations under the purview of the Monetary Authority of Singapore.

Richard holds a Master of Science in Industrial Administration from the Krannert Graduate School of Management, Purdue University and a Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering with Honors from the University of Hawaii.
