The global business community is fast becoming more integrated and there is a strong demand for individuals who are cross-culturally trained, possess the necessary managerial skills and personalities needed to lead global businesses.

With the NUS-HEC Paris Double Degree MBA, students will be given the best of education and experiences in Asia and Europe. HEC Paris is known for its academic rigour, extensive links with business and public sectors, and high quality education know-how and infrastructure. NUS Business School is a management thought leader in Asia positioned as Asia’s Global Business School. NUS knows Asia best and she is able to offer a unique educational experience for her students. The MBAs from NUS Business School and HEC Paris are consistently ranked highly in international mobility.

The synergies in combining both Schools will ensure that our graduates will have a rewarding international career. As you graduate, I am confident that you will be ready to take on leadership positions in the global business landscape working alongside our illustrious alumni and industry networks of both Schools.

NUS Business School and HEC Paris are making history and I invite you to join us in this exceptional journey.”

Professor Bernard Yeung
Dean & Stephen Riady
Distinguished Professor
NUS Business School
National University of Singapore

“HEC Paris’ core belief is that those who can transcend cultural boundaries and respond to different markets are the most sought-after leaders. The NUS-HEC Paris Double Degree MBA Programme provides many opportunities for high potential managers to experience global mobility, preparing them to be tomorrow’s global leaders and part of an 85,000 strong combined alumni network.

The HEC Paris and NUS Business School partnership enhances the attractiveness of both programmes by giving students exposure to the heart of the European Community and a gateway to Asia. The fast changing and highly competitive Asian markets present new challenges to those unfamiliar with Asian best practices and business processes. By providing students with cross-cultural management experience, they will lead with confidence, in unfamiliar cultures and environments. NUS Business School’s programme excellence in areas such as finance and strategy, among others, will contribute towards a manager’s success across industries. With this greater degree of confidence in quantitative skills these leaders will be one step closer towards achieving the bottom line.

The excellence of NUS Business School in research and its unique portfolio of business programmes with an Asia focus present a unique opportunity for HEC students looking to embark.”
